Awards 2021

Call for nominations

The Sir Roland Wilson Foundation (SRW) awards celebrate SRW scholar and alumni excellence and recognise outstanding contributions to academia, public policy, administration and management in the Australian Public Service (APS).

The Foundation offers four awards annually:

The Joan Uhr Prize for the current SRW PhD scholar who has made the greatest contribution to public policy research in the past year, and to strengthening the links between The Australian National University (ANU) and the APS.

The SRW Pat Turner Prize (research) for the SRW Pat Turner scholar who has made the greatest contribution to public policy research in the past year, and to strengthening the links between ANU, Charles Darwin University and the APS.

The SRW Pat Turner Prize (coursework) for the SRW Pat Turner scholar who has achieved the highest Weighted Average Mark while undertaking a post-graduate coursework program in semester one each year. (Nb. Nominations are not necessary for this prize, as all Pat Turner Coursework scholars participate automatically).

The SRW Ian Castles Alumni Prize for the SRW alumnus, from either scholarship program, who has achieved extraordinary success in their field/s, and/or made outstanding contributions to the alumni network, and/or public policy in Australia and/or internationally.

Submission are open for the Joan Uhr Prize, the SRW Pat Turner Prize (research), and the SRW Ian Castles Alumni prize.

We encourage nominations from SRW scholars, scholar's agencies, academic supervisors and agency mentors.

Nominations open on 1 September 2021. Please return completed nomination form to prizes.srw@anu.edu.au by 15 September 2021.
